Terms and conditions

All bookings will be confirmed in writing once payment has been processed. All bookings are taken on a first come first served basis. Living Creatively has a small groups policy and will work with a maximum of 12 people on any one workshop. We apologise in advance if you are unsuccessful in your booking. If we are unable to offer you your preferred booking option then we will contact you by email and discuss an alternative booking option with you. Should this not reach a satisfactory solution we will refund your money and cancel your booking.

Deposit is non-refundable but should you be unable to attend, you can transfer this deposit over to a future course. The remaining balance is payable four weeks before your course start date.
